COVID 19 & Creative Community Connections

Warmer weather inspires us to look forward to more convenient and safe, well-ventilated opportunities to explore the arts and creatively interact with friends and neighbors.

As of this writing, beginning May 19, 2021; New York will lift most capacity restrictions on businesses, venues and gatherings. AAA Summer Youth Activities are scheduled to resume at local libraries in compliance with COVID-19 prevention guidelines.

As the number of vaccinated individuals multiply and efforts increase to motivate more people to get vaccinated, the CDC has released fully-vaccinated people from many mask-wearing requirements.

(Some restrictions still apply.) With mask mandates still in place at the state level, local governments work to determine the safety of unmasking fully vaccinated individuals. Public health officials continue to indicate masks are warranted in certain circumstances.

As always, anyone can choose to wear a protective face covering any time they feel it will be the best thing for their own health.

The New York State Council of the Arts, The National Endowment for the Arts, Americans for the Arts, and The New York Foundation for the Arts are all good places to search for guidance on best practices to implement the changing CDC re-opening guidelines as they evolve for creative gatherings, venues, and activities in New York State.

CULTURAL AMBASSADORS WANTED

Allegany Arts Association is seeking volunteers from the communities of Allegany County, NY. We would love to hear from you if you are an Allegany County resident willing to be a contact person to share and exchange local cultural and artsy needs, news, activities, and events. Just send an email with subject line: AAA Cultural Ambassador for (the Name of Your Community) to sheila@sheilalynnkart.com.

The New "Normal"

Pushing us into social retreat, the pandemic months have masked our faces as they unmasked fundamental aspects of ourselves and our society. Potentially pacified by the entertainment and distractions of technology in modern times, the privileged could, quite easily, choose to ignore those revelations. As we prepare to "re-open" and return to "normal" we are poised to make decisions about what "normal" should be. From individual preferences & practices to community action, after months of respective imposed isolation and dormant reflections; we are in an opportune state to redefine our habits in a manner which may or may not creatively serve personal wellness and the greater good.

We choose the masks we keep. ~slk

TINKERGARTEN OUTDOOR CREATIVITY FOR KIDS

"Who knew an empty jar could be a powerful tool for collecting, creating, and even inspiring imaginary adventures? This weekend, grab an empty jar or container and encourage your little ones to gather up the nature treasures that spark wonder for them. Marvel at these discoveries together, then welcome kids to sort them, create art with them, imagine with them or just continue to explore them using all of their senses.

This activity is inspired by one of our favorite books, Juna's Jar by Jane Bahk and Felicia Hoshino. It's a beautiful story of a Korean American girl, Juna, who uses her family's empty kimchi jars to collect all kinds of nature treasures."

Ages 0-8 But, fun for "kids" of all ages.

THEATRE ANNOUNCEMENT

The Town Theatre of Short Tract has an exciting event to kick off the summer! "Santa's Summer Sojourn," an original play written by Dr. Dawn Bennett, will open the summer concert series sponsored by the Wide Awake Club Library; Fillmore, NY,

at the Fillmore Town Park on June 30th at 7:00 p.m.

What happens when Santa Claus has a "mid-centuries' crisis" and decides to set up a new home at a trailer park in Florida? Add in a couple petty thieves, a cynical youth, a snarky English trailer park manager, and a host of elves and reindeer which are determined to get Santa back, and you have a recipe for an evening of fun entertainment.

Come join us for music and merriment!

Rehearsals to begin the first week of June and meet Fridays at 6:30, plus a few days the last week before the show. There are roles for 3-5 men, 1-3 women, 1 youth plus 2-8 kids and 5 adults for the chorus of elves and reindeer. If you have questions or would like to take part, please email Dawn Bennett at bennettdawn18@yahoo.com.

SUMMER PROGRAMS AND ACTIVITIES WELCOME AT THE FASSETT GREENSPACE PROJECT IN WELLSVILLE

Art for Rural America, has plans to finish their "ShadeSpace Pavilion." This structure will create a covered area in the back of the garden with additional seating for 75 individuals. The pavilion is designed for performance and lecture spaces. The public space is free to use for any group or individual that is looking for a relaxing, beautiful, and unique outdoor venue. The Board of Art for Rural America asks that groups of five or more individuals email them ahead of time about an event. This way, the nonprofit can better assess their impact and make sure there are no scheduling conflicts. The nonprofit is available to help cross-promote any open public event at the garden. Please contact Board President, Cassandra Bull, for more information or to host a program. She can be reached via email at ArtforRuralAmerica@gmail.com. Please like the Fasset GreenSpace on Facebook or visit their website ArtforRuralAmerica.org for more information.
